Tear Gas Used To Rescue Hostages From Convicts

KOZLOV VISIT IN DETROIT UNEVENTFUL

By WILLIAM RYAN
DETROIT (AP)—Industrial Detroit today gave Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov the treatment usually accorded heads of state.

Kozlov was welcomed by business executives despite a snub from the city's mayor. On a forenoon tour there were no unfriendly demonstrations.

At the Ford Motor Co., Kozlov was greeted by the president, Henry Ford II, and the board chairman, Ernest R. Breech.

Kozlov's tour today may be one big objective of his visit: studying how and why capitalism works.

Mayor Louis C. Mirani carried out his announced intention of ignoring the visit of Frol Romanovich Kozlov, a right-hand man to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. But late today Gov. G. Mennen Williams planned to welcome the party to Michigan. The mayor of suburban Dearborn also extended a welcome to that community, home of the vast Ford Motor Co.

The Soviet official and his party arrived late Monday night from Oakland, Calif., aboard their chartered plane.

Kozlov's arrival in Detroit was uneventful. A small group met him. No demonstrators showed up.

A crowded schedule of visits to important industrial installations in this automotive capital awaited Kozlov and his party of experts.

If the object of the tour has been to make propaganda, it has failed so far as the general public is concerned. The public in all the stops on this tour has displayed nothing beyond mild curiosity. The party's contacts virtually exclusively have been with high level government and business leaders.

There is little doubt among observers on the trip that one of the Soviet purposes has been to make propaganda for expanded trade prospects and, on the political level, for a summit conference of the Big Four heads of government.

Son of World War II Air Hero Enters West Point Today

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Awkward young men with short haircuts arrived at the U.S. Military Academy today to form the class of 1963. They included Colin P. Kelly III, son of America's first air hero of World War II.

Colin P. Kelly, Jr., was killed three days after Pearl Harbor returning from a bombing raid on a Japanese cruiser. He told his crew to bail out when enemy fighters riddled his plane. He did not and was posthumously awarded the congressional medal of honor.

His 19-year-old son Corky entered West Point the hard way, qualifying through the competitive examination rather than accepting the presidential appointment waiting for him nearly 20 years.

A week after his father died, President Roosevelt wrote a letter asking the man who sat in the White House when young Kelly was born to accept the appointment.

Reformatory Guard Relates Details of Tear Gas Attack

Editor's Note: William McKelvie, guard lieutenant at the Washington State Reformatory, was the man who triggered the officers' attack today that freed hostages held by four inmates. Here is McKelvie's story as told to The Associated Press.

By WILLIAM MCKELVIE
MONROE, Wash. (AP)—When they told me they would roll out my officers dead, I knew we had to move in and take them.

It was a big decision to make. It was even harder knowing those little kids were in there.

It really gets a father when he hears a child being held behind bars cry "I want to go home." We had the rush set up in advance. Officer John Martin was stationed about four feet from the door — flattened out against the

Clark Seeks Release Of Dam Funds

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph S. Clark D-Pa. said today a Senate appropriations subcommittee has voted to turn down a House restriction against spending $1,400,000 to continue construction on the huge Kinzua Dam on the Allegheny River.

The proposed 113-million-dollar dam above Warren, Pa., would be the largest dam in the Ohio Valley flood control system. It was authorized in 1937. Last year Congress appropriated $1,400,000 toward the project but the Seneca Indian tribe on the grounds their land would be flooded, blocked the project by court action. The Supreme Court recently refused to consider the case further.

The House, however, had written a provision into a water projects appropriation bill to bar expenditure of the $1,400,000 pending further study of the Senecas.

Clark has expressed fears the project may be "studied to death."

He said today he is contacting members of the full Senate appropriations committee in an effort to persuade them to uphold the subcommittee action.

"This project now has surmounted one important hurdle," Clark said. "I hope the full committee and Senate will sustain the subcommittee and that the Senate's position then will uphold in a conference with the House on the bill."

BUSINESS FAILURES

NEW YORK (AP)—Business failures continued to decline last week. The total of 244 for the seven days ending Thursday was the lowest of the year for the second consecutive week. They have been falling since the beginning of June.

Wall with the tear gas gun. The key word for the attack was "Olympia."

I thought it would be easy to bring this word into my conversation with the ringleaders naturally. It was.

I told Richard Murray and Robert Jasmin, who were the ringleaders, that I couldn't grant them any concessions without orders from the state capital at Olympia.

That was the word. Martin fired into the room. I reached through the broken glass and unlocked the door from the inside.

I was hoping there was enough gas that I wouldn't get my hand cut off with one of the knives which the convicts had threatened to use.

Professor Victim of Poison Ivy Lecture

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Hal Moser, University of Massachusetts horticulture specialist, bitingly handled shiny leaves last Thursday as he cautioned his television audience about similar contact.

Moser himself had suffered from contact with poison ivy. Now he hopes to recover from the mild case of poisoning he suffered so he can give his weekly TV lecture this Thursday.

Soviets Hail Latest Live Trip to Space

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union claims the flying menagerie she lobbed into space last week is the most powerful single-stage rocket yet sent up from either side of the Iron Curtain.

A leading Soviet scientist hailed the Soviet feat of recovering the two dogs and a rabbit safely after their flight as "an important step in solving the problem of space flight by men."

"It won't be long now before we see people flying into space," declared Dr. Grigory Khrushchev, corresponding member of the U.S.S.R. Academy of Sciences over Moscow radio.

Homesick Youth Crossing Atlantic In Small Sailboat

CLINTON, Conn. (AP)—John C. H. Wendes is a 70-year-old man who wants nothing less than to see the land of his youth—Sweden. His task of turning a dream to reality is awesome. He is sailing the Atlantic in a 35-foot sailboat.

Weather permitting, Wendes leaves today with two younger men aboard his "Viking."

Wendes' romantic journey seems practical and safe to him. Of the boat, he said: "I believe it can go anywhere the Queen Mary could go. A small boat will stay atop the waves."

His crew will consist of Charles Pickett, 37, a consulting engineer from Washington, D.C., and Earl Potts, 27, an employee of the Maryland State Penitentiary.

Three men have sailed the Atlantic alone from the Straits of Gibraltar to New York.

Wendes came to the United States at 25. He worked at the U.S. Rubber Co. in Nautucket for 26 years and when he retired in 1954 he was chief engineer and production manager.

"Last January my wife died. This left me free to go where I pleased. So I sold my house and started to plan the cruise. I'm in very good shape. When it comes to work I can fire out a man half my age."

Respected Service Station Operator Wanted Fugitive

DES MOINES (AP)—A quiet, respected Des Moines service station operator, who hid his identity for two years, was seized by FBI agents Monday night as one of the nation's 10 most wanted fugitives.

George E. Cole, 32, who went under the name of James Walker, was picked up by agents at the station he leased. He told them "he was expecting arrest sooner or later."

Cole is accused of fatally shooting a San Francisco police sergeant during an attempted cocktail lounge holdup on Dec. 30, 1956.

Cole surrendered quietly to agents. He was unarmed. San Francisco police have a six-drawer index on Cole, who has served prison terms in Missouri and California.

In Des Moines, he first went to work for an auto agency. Six months ago he began operating his own station.

Neighbors and fellow workers expressed shock at his arrest.

Drive To Slice Foreign Aid Is Waged By Dems

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats aimed a budget-cutting drive at President Eisenhower's foreign aid program today.

The immediate target was the $1,600,000,000 Eisenhower asked for military arms aid abroad. Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) wants to cut this by 550 million dollars in the first of a series of fund-cutting amendments Democrats have proposed.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the GOP leader, told reporters he thought there would be sufficient votes from both Democrats and Republicans to defeat any substantial cuts in the pending $3,224,520,000 foreign aid authorization bill.

But Sens. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), who normally support foreign aid programs, said they thought some cuts could be made without causing damage.

Eisenhower calls the foreign aid program a keystone of American foreign policy and says it is vital (Turn to Page Ten)

Violent Death Toll Over Weekend is 520

CHICAGO (AP)—Accident deaths over the Independence Day weekend totaled 520, including 276 in traffic mishaps and 179 drownings, a final count showed.

Sixty-five other persons were killed in miscellaneous type accidents from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

The traffic toll was 74 lower than the pre-holiday estimate of 350 by the National Safety Council. It compared with 310 deaths on the highways during the Memorial Day weekend.

35,000 Fans On Hand For All-Star Game

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ed Mathews' home run off Early Wynn gave the National League a 1-0 lead over the American League in the first inning of the 26th annual All-Star baseball game today.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Clear, warm weather with the thermometer close to 80 degrees greeted today's 26th all-star baseball game at Forbes field.

A crowd of 35,000, including Vice President Nixon, turned out to cheer the National League and American League stars in their first visit to Pittsburgh since 1944.

There were no changes in the starting lineups. They were:

Yosemite National Park, Calif. (AP)—"I prayed and I knew they'd find me. I knew I was to see my husband and children again."

That is the way Maria Hendrika Lip, 38, summed up the five days she wandered lost among Yosemite's big trees while 75 men and a pack of bloodhounds hunted her.

"I just got lost," she explained after rangers Buck Evans and Del Armstrong found her Monday morning, sitting on a rock near the Merced River.

Evans and Armstrong, who had hunted along the river after the track of a single tennis shoe was found, estimated she had wandered 25 miles.

They gave her emergency rations and then took her to Big Trees Lodge at Wawona for a reunion with her husband, Otto. He had sent home their three daughters, Nellie, 10, Rosine, 8, and Katrina, 6. Their home is at Byron, 20 miles west of Stockton, Calif., where Lip manages a farm.

Hungarian Diplomats May Be Restricted

WASHINGTON (AP)—If it follows its usual tit-for-tat policy, the State Department likely will bar Hungarian diplomats from traveling more than a few miles from Washington.

The Communist Hungarian government Monday notified the American Legation in Budapest that U. S. diplomats could not travel more than 24 miles from the city without special permission.

The Hungarian note listed a string of complaints against the United States, and accused the American legation of "machinations against the Hungarian people's way of life conducted either openly or in secrecy under the cover of diplomatic relations."

Queen Resuming Her Tour Of Canada After Thrilling Day as Guest in Chicago

By REILMAN MORIN
CHICAGO (AP)—"It has been an unforgettable day."

Openly thrilled, with a smile like a sunburst, Queen Elizabeth said goodbye to Chicago Monday night after 13 exciting hours amid the roar of cheering millions and one of the triumphs of her life.

She is resuming her tour of Canada with Prince Philip today, heading north aboard the royal yacht Britannia for Sainte Ste. Marie, Ontario.

They will be on the yacht until noon Wednesday.

The echoes of Chicago will not soon die away.

The city gave her a warm, generous, typically American reception.

It was a case of mutual admiration. Elizabeth quickly caught the spirit of the crowds. She smiled. She began to wave with genuine feeling. She kept turning to Philip, chatting and laughing, as the thunder of the applause pursued them through the streets.

"We shall carry with us on the next stage of our journey, and for many years to come, a memory of the generous hospitality of Chicago which will long warm our hearts," she said.

These were her words as she rose to speak to 1,400 guests at Mayor Richard Daley's banquet in her honor, the last event on her long program. She was a glittering figure in white with a diamond and emerald tiara in her chestnut hair.

Commissioner of Police Timothy J. O'Connor calculated 2,000,000 persons saw Elizabeth during the day. They massed around Buckingham Fountain Land in Grant Park, where she stepped ashore, even before the Britannia was in sight outside the breakwater.

They stood for hours in the streets during the day. They were still waiting late Monday night to see her, escorted by 40 Medinah Shriners troopers riding black horses, as she came and left the hotel where the banquet was held.

Everything went according to schedule in the tightly meshed arrangements. Two unexpected events were added.

First, Elizabeth lost a filling in one of her back teeth. She spent a quick 20 minutes in the dentist's chair while Dr. Norman R. Olson fitted a temporary filling.

Next, a police bomb squad scurried to the Museum of Science and Industry after an anonymous telephone call said the building would be blown up while the Queen and Philip were inside.

"A phony," said commissioner O'Connor. "Somebody just decided to make a telephone call."

Hertter Plans Showdown Talks With Russians

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Hertter begins final preparations today for showdown talks with the Soviet Union over Berlin. There is no sign he will offer new concessions to win Soviet agreement.

Hertter, who spent the weekend in Massachusetts, returns to his desk for a four-day review of diplomatic strategy.

Saturday he will fly to Geneva for a new effort to crack the East-West deadlock on Berlin's future. He is to resume talks Monday with the British, French and Soviet foreign ministers, picking up where the conference bogged down three weeks ago.

Hertter and top State Department aides are reported determined to keep the second round short. A two-week session at the most is looked for.

Red China Not Ready To Fight, Officials Say

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite occasional clashes, U. S. officials believe that Red China is unwilling to risk a major military venture at this time.

They voiced that view today in the wake of a weekend air battle over Formosa Strait during which Chinese Nationalists claimed that four Nationalist Sabrejets shot down five of 12 attacking Communist MIGs. Peiping Radio conceded the loss of only one plane.

The officials noted that Red China has not renounced its intention to use force in attaining its objectives, nor has it shown any lessening of its ability to create tension when it wants to do so.

PRISONERS ARE SEIZED IN STRUGGLE

By JOHN KOMEN
MONROE, Wash. (AP)—Thirty-eight hostages held for 13½ terror-filled hours by four "kill crazy" young convicts were freed unharmed at the state reformatory today in a surprise tear gas attack.

Armed officers carried out the rescue at 4:03 a.m. two hours before the third and latest deadline set by the rebelling prisoners. Reformatory officials said it went "like clockwork."

The rebels, who had armed themselves with butcher knives and long forks in the kitchen Thursday afternoon in the abortive escape attempt, threatened violence only to the three guards held hostage.

One of the guards, Hugh DeWalt, said the desperados told the officers to start praying because they would be thrown out of the window dead if their demands for freedom were not met.

Twenty-five visitors, many of them women and children, and 11 other prisoners who had been visiting relatives, also were held through the late afternoon and night in the barricaded visitors' room. They were treated fairly well, however.

The four rebels were quickly subdued as the tear gas sent the occupants stumbling, weeping and choking from the room.

The four were ordered placed in isolation.

Lawrence Delmore, state supervisor of adult correction, praised the reformatory staff for the smoothly executed rescue.

"We picked the time; we picked the battlefield," he said.

"We knew from 11 p.m. on what we were going to do. It was a matter of allowing enough time so that the women and children would be down asleep. We didn't want anybody to get hurt."

An officer said surprise was the factor of success. A guard crept close to the room and hurled a tear gas shell. The charge followed.

A prison guard, William McKelvie, who had talked to the prisoners on several occasions, called two of the convicts to the broken window in the hostage room.

State May Censor Obscene Matter Atty. Gen. Says

HARRISBURG (AP)—The common law will permit the state to censor obscene or pornographic movies, Atty. Gen. Anne K. Alpern told Gov. Lawrence Monday.

The governor had requested legal guidance on the subject in view of the State Supreme Court decision last week which held the state's obscenity law to be unconstitutional.

"Justice" Bok specifically states in the Supreme Court decision that prosecutions can be brought under the common law where an obscene picture is being exhibited," Miss Alpern said.

"The showing of obscene matter is a misdemeanor under the common law and punishable by imprisonment," she said.

Funeral Services Penn'a Oil Still the Best, Set For Holiday Bradford Paper Emphasizes Accident Victims

Lee C. Fitzpatrick will be buried with military rites today while 18-year-old Alvin Colby of Levittown, a fatherless boy whom Fitzpatrick sponsored through school, will be laid to rest at Altoona Wednesday.

Fitzpatrick, 27, a Warren mail carrier, died early Saturday morning after a car accident one-half mile from the Pennsylvania state line at Fentonville. Colby died one hour later in Jamestown hospital as a result of the crash.

Driver of Fitzpatrick's 1959 Chevrolet convertible which left Rte. 62 on "deadman's curve" at Fentonville early Fourth of July morning, is not ascertained. Both riders were thrown clear of the wreckage. Keys for the ignition were found in each of the victim's pockets.

Colby, just 18 last Wednesday, graduated from Scotland School for Veterans' Children at Scotland, Pa., last month. The day after commencement, Alvin came to Warren to visit his "father" who saw to it that the young man received an education. Along with Virginia Pulli of Warren, Fitzpatrick, an active member of VFW organizations, sponsored Alvin through the school.

Members of local Veterans' circles and patients of Warren State Hospital, where Fitzpatrick assisted with shows sponsored by Cooties, were grieved over the accident. The story behind the two victims who became attached as a result of Fitzpatrick's interest in the youth's welfare, left the soul-searching question in the minds of hundreds who escaped the Fourth of July weekend without a tragic accident, "why?"

Fish Commission Not Selling To Private Owners

HARRISBURG (AP) — There is no foundation to reports the State Fish Commission is selling fish to owners of private lakes, Executive Director William Voigt, Jr. said today.

"First of all, it is against the law," he said. "That is a recurring rumor that comes up every so often."

Charles Neht, director of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs, said his group, too, has received no reports of such illegal sales.

Voigt said the commission has had reports of illegal sales of fish by commission employees both in the northwest and along the Maryland border.

"A year or so ago we investigated a report in Elk County, or somewhere in that area. We asked the state police to check and they sent a man up but found no one could back up the rumor."

"We always say that if anyone has any information that a fish commission employee is selling fish, to turn it over to us and to the state police for a thorough investigation."

Stockton Boy Is Lightning Victim Racing For Home

SOUTH STOCKTON — An 11-year-old boy was killed by a bolt of lightning as he raced for home across a field just ahead of a storm shortly after noon Monday.

He was John Larry Lewis, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lewis of this community. The youngster, with his brother, Daniel, and a cousin, was trying to reach home before the storm. Daniel said he felt a "tingling" sensation when the lightning struck but he was not seriously injured. The cousin was unhurt.

A neighbor attempted artificial respiration, as did members of the Emergency Squad of the Sinclairville Fire Dept. Their efforts were unavailing.

The accident was investigated by Coroner Samuel Bowers and Deputy Phil Van Rensselaer. The coroner issued a certificate of accidental death.

John Larry Lewis was born August 23, 1947 in Jamestown, a son of Charles A. and Ellen Ford Lewis. He was a student in the fifth grade of Sinclairville Elementary School and played second base with the Sinclairville Little League Baseball team.

Dry Well Solves Washout Problem At School Project

A building project the size of the new Warren Area Joint High School naturally poses many problems. Since the bushes and grasses have been removed to permit grading and filling, the heavy summer rains have been washing dirt down on sidewalks, streets and lawns.

When the building is completed, the rain water will run into dry wells. A dry well is a hole in the ground built to take the surface water. Since there is a layer of gravel under the site, this plan will work well when the work is completed. During the past week, temporary holes and ditches have been dug to care for the water. The last heavy rains created no problem.

The county highway crew under Worth Hammond has helped the situation on Fifth avenue. They have ditched in front of the administrative offices, 345 East Fifth avenue, to keep the water from running across the road.

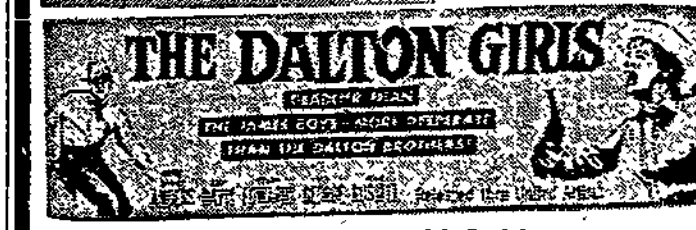

While a cloudburst could spoil these measures and daily work changes drainage conditions, the Branna Construction Company will make every possible effort to avoid damage and discomfort.

It has been estimated that 17 grasshoppers per square yard can eat one ton of alfalfa per day.

Manufacturers Rate Increase Is Delayed

HARRISBURG (AP)—A 4% million rate increase sought by Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., Pittsburgh, has been delayed for at least another three months by the Public Utility Commission.

The PUC ruled Monday the proposed increases will not become effective before Oct. 14 and scheduled additional public hearings for next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Harrisburg.

The proposed new rate schedule for some 250,000 Manufacturers customers in 25 western counties originally had been suspended six months until July 14. But the PUC said it required additional time for study of the proposal.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—There is one question about wives no husband can answer.

The question is "Why do they want to go out in the evening?" Why? No husband ever knows. When you first marry a girl, all she says she wants in life is "to make a home." Make a home? What she means is she wants you to make a home for her.

So you rent a nice furnished room and a half flat on the third floor of a walk-up apartment and figure you've got life solved.

What happens? Inside a year she says it is too small.

"We need a home of our own to be really happy," she says. Just a little cottage out in the country.

So you pawn your soul to the banker, and buy her a little cottage in the suburbs. In another year she's restless again.

"All I want is to make you a nice home," she says. "But what is home without a child?"

So you give her a child. You give her two children. You give her three children. Anything to keep her quiet.

So what happens? One day she announces:

"I feel like the old lady in the shoe in this little box of a house. We're too crowded. Why don't we get a bigger house farther out in the country where I can have a garden. That's all in this world I want."

So you take your soul again to the banker and buy her a house twice as big and four times as expensive. You buy her enough flower and vegetable seeds to feed China.

You buy her a rake and a hoe and a power mower. You rent her a landscape man "to give the house a proper setting."

"Now we'll have to fix up the inside of the house—if we're really going to have a dream home," she says.

Back you go to the banker.

So you buy your wife the latest modern furniture, plus wall-to-wall carpeting and ceiling-to-floor draperies. You build a fine entertainment room in the basement, complete with games table and well-stocked bar. It has a television set. So has the living room.

You have a total of five radios throughout the house, so your wife can hear music wherever she goes. You buy her a sewing machine, an automatic dishwasher, an electric washer, dryer and ironer, a vacuum cleaner, an electric hair dryer, an electric massage machine, a home freezer that will hold a three-month supply of food.

You think you have thought of everything, but you haven't.

"It would be ideal here if it didn't get so hot in summer," murmurs your wife. So you go to the banker—by now he is calling you by your first name—and borrow enough to air-condition the house.

So you enlarge the garage and buy a second car.

You have at last achieved the ultimate. You have the American dream home, stocked with all the gadgets science can devise to bring you comfort and joy.

And what happens? You reach the front door, glad to have made it through another day at the office and eager for a restful, relaxing evening at home.

"Hurry up and change your clothes. We're going out," the wife says.

"I kind of thought we might stay home tonight and take it easy," you protest.

"If you think I'm going to stay here night after night staring at the same four blank walls, you're crazy," she replies.

Four blank walls? This dream house that took so many years to make!

But out you must go. It makes no difference to a wife whether you're going out to visit a neighbor—or out to watch a free blood transfusion. She'll drag you to anything—just to get out of the house.

Why? This is the question no husband can answer.

DRIVE CAREFULLY!

POORER HAND

MIGHT WIN

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

There are no sure things in contract. If there were South would have passed with his 26 points and kept out of trouble.

As it was he opened with two diamonds and eventually doubled his opponents at four spades. North ran out to five diamonds. He was right in assuming that West would make his four spades, but after what happened at five diamonds he wished he had stood for the double.

West opened the ten of hearts. East took his ace and returned a spade. West won and played the deuce of hearts. East ruffed and after a little thought decided that his partner was asking for a club lead. He led the queen of clubs and West ruffed South's king.

Another heart was ruffed by East and he led the jack of clubs. South's ace went down the drain and he still had to lose a spade and a club.

He wound up taking only his five trumps and, if it is any consolation to South, which I have seen bigger sets than this is the biggest I have ever seen with this good a hand.

Dam Rehab. Plus
 Mr. Ed Lowrey, Editor

Dear Sir:
 I read an article by a retired army engineer, and another one by a private engineer.

One writing was entitled "Not by a Dam Site"; the private engineer said "Dam Foolishness". Both men stated the fact any dam eventually fills up with debris and washed in earthen, commonly known as plan mud.

In time our grandchildren will know that we spent millions of dollars raising the water level of the Allegheny Valley by erecting a dam. The eventual thin expanse of water is not flood control. I found the truth of the engineers' statements by going to dams where we used to catch frogs, alive.

Sincerely,

A VETERAN PASSES
The untimely passing of popular Lee C. Fitzpatrick, who lost his life in an automobile accident while returning from Jamestown, N. Y., early Saturday morning, is profoundly mourned by a wide circle of friends, including members of the various Veterans groups in Warren where he was extremely active. A prime worker in the Veterans of Foreign Wars, including the Military Order of Cooties, his enthusiasm and propensity for volunteer service will be sadly missed, especially at the Warren State Hospital where he had long participated in the monthly visitations for veteran-patients.

THE FORK IN THE ROAD
It's not uncommon to hear that teen-age delinquents hauled into court on serious offenses laugh and gag their way through the proceedings to show their indifference and their contempt for authority.

The sneers and the smirks, of course, are part of a broad pattern of juvenile behavior which often has deep roots. Some youngsters have never known real authority. Others have learned of it only to defy it.

Tragically, the laugh in the end may very well be on them. If you told them this, they would merely laugh and sneer again. They wouldn't understand what you were saying, nor perhaps even care to understand.

Some, to be sure, will straighten out along the way, grow up to be good citizens, and be forgiven their past, if anyone bothers to remember it in this careless day.

But many are at this very stage of their lives committing themselves to a sad, self-defeating course from which there is no return. They will commit many of the worst crimes of tomorrow, working their depredations on an American society which seems less and less able to defend itself.

Many of them will populate our jails for long years, and others will lead haunted, twisted lives that can bring them no peace and no happiness. As in many cases they come from broken homes, so tomorrow they will produce new broken homes, sowing the seeds of trouble for others.

The society which is not quite safe from them nevertheless will reject them. They will live within its broad confines, but be no part of it.

The defiant grins of the unreconstructed delinquent sitting in a courtroom are really a pitiful sign of ignorance. And the worst of that is his ignorance of the painful, empty, ultimately self-destructive future which may be ahead of him.

His petty triumph, if any would call it even that, is really a step on the road to a great defeat—the near total waste of a human life.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Don't buy the idea the Supreme Court is backing down under criticism. The facts don't bear it out. The attacks on the court in the 1958-59 term were bitter although less widespread than in the past. But this was a fairly mild term.

There's a good explanation for that. The nine justices didn't have to cope with issues as explosive as some of those in recent years. The court continued to plod along steadily in its role as guardian of individual rights and freedoms. Its most publicized decisions were in that field.

As usual, they didn't please everyone, not even some of the justices themselves. The harshness of some of their criticism of one another's opinions might indicate some conflict within the court itself. That's only a guess.

Justice Black, always voting on what is called the liberal side, complained in a moment of exasperation that the court is in retreat. Any impartial study of the court's work would have a hard time proving it. One example: In decision after decision the court never budged an inch from its 1954 ruling outlawing racial segregation in public schools.

Ever since that 1954 opinion—and subsequent ones protecting fair-treatment rights of Communists and non-Communists—the court has been battered with denunciations.

Those opinions cut across many fields: states rights, the federal employe security program, the sedition laws of the states, and congressional investigations of communism. As a result the justices have been told they were going too far, that they were usurping power, that they belonged to the legislative and executive branches of government, and that they were a menace. Some Southern Democrats talked of impeaching them. This year even the American Bar Assn. at its February convention was split between those who wanted to chastise the court in an ABA resolution and those who didn't. In the end the ABA avoided direct criticism.

In one grand congressional outburst this summer House Republicans, defying the wishes of the Eisenhower administration, joined Southern Democrats in ramming through a bill to offset at least one court decision.

The court had ruled in 1956 that when it comes to trying subversives, federal law supersedes state sedition laws. The House-passed bill would give state laws equal weight with federal laws in the same field unless Congress specifically says otherwise or unless there are direct conflicts between them.

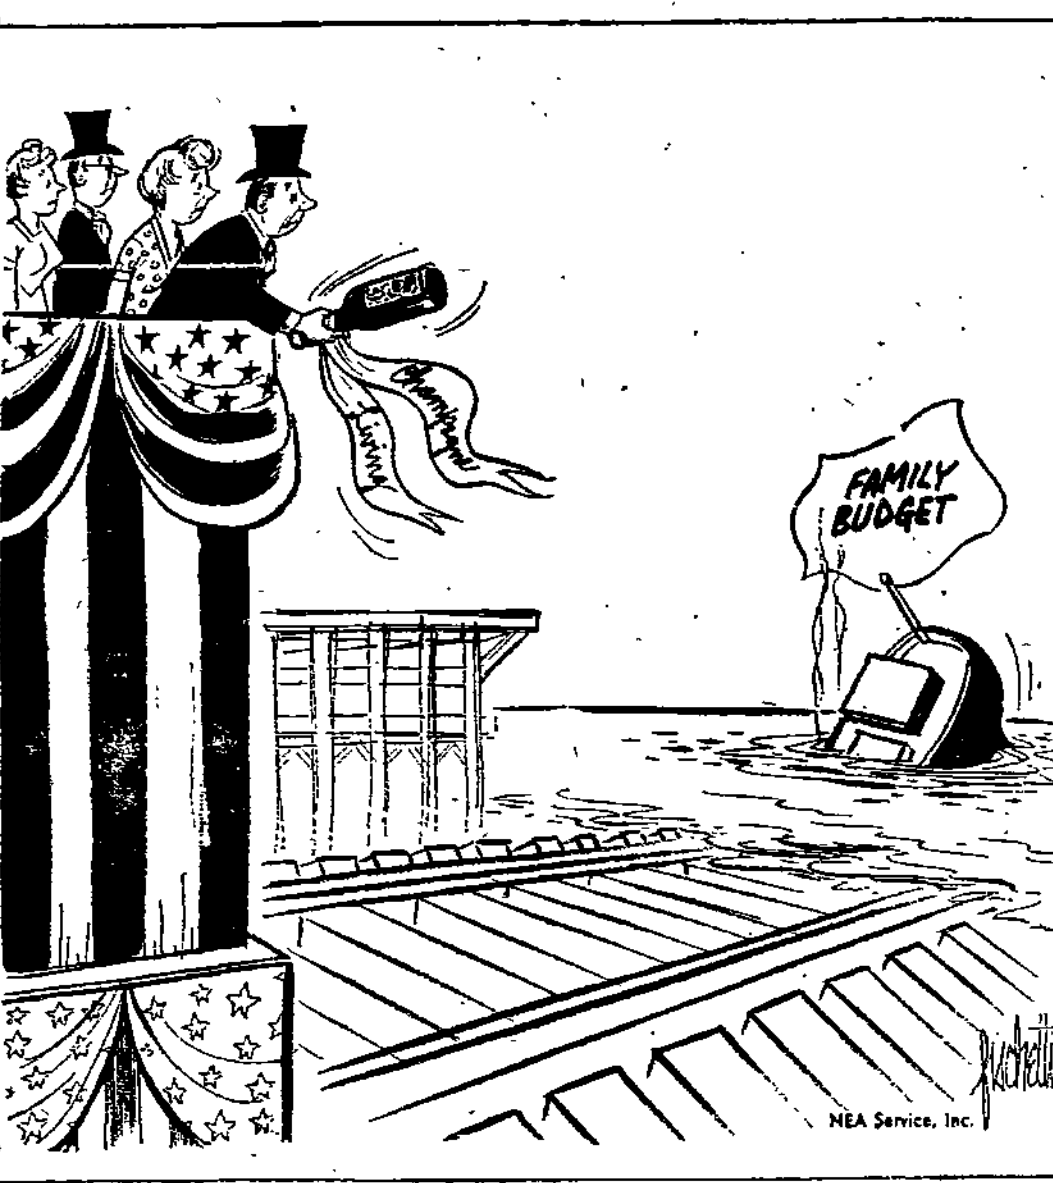

Opponents charged—and the supporters of the bill denied—that its real target was not sedition laws at all but civil rights and labor laws. Its chance of becoming law looks thin, for the Senate is unlikely to approve it.

The court irritated Congress no end in 1957 with a decision throwing out the contempt conviction of a man who refused to answer certain questions of the House Committee on Un-American Activities investigating communism in labor.

The court ruled that if a congressional committee wants to force a witness to answer it must show that its questions are pertinent to the investigation being made. In this case, the court said, the committee didn't.

This opinion forced the committee to be lots more precise in asking questions. This year the court upheld the contempt conviction of another (Turn to Page Seven).

Old United States Flags may fade, but they never die. Though the Fourth of July marked the latest official change in the star pattern, it is proper to display any American flag, regardless of the number of stars, as long as it is in reasonably good condition. Old flags are often prized as souvenirs. The respect shown the national ensign today was little evident 182 years ago when the flag began to take shape. Lonnelle Aikman writes in the July National Geographic Magazine. In an article entitled "New Stars for Old Glory," Mrs. Aikman notes that adoption of the first formal flag in 1777 was handled by the Continental Congress in a distinctly offhand manner. No record of the vote exists. Handed down to posterity, "Resolved That the Flag of the United States (sic) be 13 stripes alternate red and white, that the Union be 13 stars in a blue field representing a new constellation." Such meager documentation of the flag's beginning has given rise to many legends and romantic traditions. Flag scholars rule out the story that Betsy Ross made the first flag. More likely the flag's principal designer was Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. It is a matter of record that Hopkinson tried, though without success, to obtain a monetary reward for his work. The Navy held a virtual monopoly on the Stars and Stripes during the Revolution—a practical necessity to identify warships and privateers. The Army did not officially adopt the flag as its colors until more than half a century later. After Vermont and Kentucky joined the 13 original states in 1791 and 1792 Congress passed a resolution adding two more stripes and stars. This act produced the flag that won fame as Francis Scott Key's Star-Spangled Banner, now on display in Washington's Smithsonian Institution. The Flag Act of 1818 established the permanent design of 13 stripes and provided for the addition of a star for each new State on the Fourth of July following accession. However, the law made no provision for the arrangement of stars. Thus a new star pattern had to be designed when Alaska was granted Statehood. Hawaii's entry as the 50th State again raises the problem. The manufacture of new flags is a large industry. Between five and six million are produced each year. In 1959 the figure is running perhaps 20 per cent higher. Personal big buyers are the military services and the various agencies of the Federal Government. Last year they acquired more than 650,000 U.S. flags, ranging in size from 5-by-9 inches to 20-by-38 feet. In Washington a curious ceremony takes place each day. A police officer of the U.S. Capitol runs up a dozen or more small flags, one after another, and allows each to flutter briefly over the national seat of government. Arrangements to buy and fly these flags are made by Congressmen at the request of constituents. "The desire for such emblems is a reminder of the intangible sense of history that is warp and woof of the Stars and Stripes," Mrs. Aikman writes. "Interwoven in the shared national memory is the strength of America's great, the labors and dreams of her pioneers, the sacrifices of her war dead."

Some tips about your mail which can help make your vacation more pleasant have been issued by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, as follows: Don't let a stuffed mail box advertise your absence to housebreakers. Ask a neighbor to empty your box and hold your mail. If this cannot be arranged, your postmaster may hold your mail for a limited time upon written request. If you want to get your mail while you're away, file a forwarding order with your postmaster. (Let him know when you get back, though. Forwarding first class mail does not require additional postage. Other classes will need more postage, but you can guarantee payment of this postage by so indicating on the forwarding order you fill out.) Use your full and complete vacation address and give it to people who may write you. Use enough postage. Regular size post cards take 3¢, jumbo size cards 4¢, first class letters 4¢ an ounce. Don't send cash in letters; use postal money orders, and register letters containing valuable items. Package carefully. When sending perishable, fragile, or unusual items by parcel post, it is best to check mailability. Buy books of the local post office on their stamps at the nearest post office to avoid unnecessary return trips.

Millions Have Vital Interest In Veterans' Pension Benefits

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Seventy-seven million Americans—44 per cent of the population—have a direct interest in the new, non-service-connected veterans' pension legislation which has passed the House and is now before the Senate Finance Committee. Living veterans of all American wars number over 22 million. They have in all, 19 million wives, 25 million children and 11 million other dependents.

They all want to know how present benefits compare with the new rates and what they can get out of them.

Only 1,237,667 veterans or their dependents now get pension benefits. But the number is expected to rise to a peak of 4.5 million by 1995—if there are no new wars.

ASSUMING THAT THE HOUSE-PASSED BILL is approved by the Senate and signed by President Eisenhower, its total additional costs are now estimated at 208 million dollars for the first year. After it goes into effect, July 1, 1960.

This will increase to a peak of over 500 million dollars more for 1960. Then it will start declining to 105 million more by 1990. These figures are on top of present pension costs of 1.2 billion a year.

It isn't a money-saving bill. But it will reduce the total cost of living veterans' pensions by 12 billion dollars and decrease veterans' cases by 231 million.

FOR WORLD WAR II AND KOREAN WAR widows and their dependents, pension eligibility requirements would be eased under the new bill to match that of World War I survivors. This will cost 22 billion dollars more, offsetting the savings from reduced pensions for the veterans themselves.

Getting down to individual cases, the principal change in the House-passed bill is that it would introduce a new sliding scale of pensions. This would be based on the other income and dependency status of the recipient. The greater the need, the bigger the pension to be given.

A veteran with no dependents and an annual income of less than $600 would get $85 a month. If his income is $600 to $1,200 a year, he would get $70 a month. If his income is $1,200 to $1,800 a year he would get $40 a month. If his income is over $1,800 a year he would get nothing.

For a veteran with dependents—regardless of number—the pension would be $90 a month if his income is under $1,000 a year. He would get $75 a month if his income is between $1,000 and $2,000. He would get $45 a month if his income is between $2,000 and $3,000. These payments would be increased $70 a month if the veteran needs regular aid and attendance.

Hollywood News

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It was all a mistake that he got known as the kissless Hollywood hero, says Pat Boone. To prove it, he'll do some smooching in his new movie.

The singing star explained the mixup before descending into a man-made cavern for "To the Center of the Earth." The script calls for some love scenes with curvaceous Diane Baker.

"The publicity got out of hand," Pat said. "Even in foreign countries they were referring to me as the man who wouldn't kiss his leading lady."

"It happened when I was making 'April Love.' One day the director, Henry Levin, thought I should give Shirley Jones a kiss in a scene. He asked me if I thought it was all right.

"I didn't know what to say. The issue had never come up because there had been no kissing scenes in the script. I wanted time to discuss it with my wife and to think about how the fans and my church would react. But Henry wanted a decision right then, so I said no."

"The next thing I knew, all the papers and wire services carried the news that I wouldn't kiss Shirley because of my religion. It created such an uproar that Henry and the producer, David Weisbart, wanted to write a kissing scene into the movie. I declined again, because it would seem as though I were going back on my principles."

Now he has talked the situation over with Mrs. Boone, Pat said, "and she agrees it would be all right, although she would prefer to keep that part of our lives solely to ourselves. She realizes that love scenes are a part of this business, and I hope other people will, too."

A NEW REMEDY FOR MOLDS
Fungal diseases of the body resemble bacterial infections. They produce similar symptoms and the invaded tissues may look so much alike that a microscopic examination is needed to determine whether the causative agent is a germ or a mold.
The differences are more apparent when it comes to treatment. The popular antibiotics, such as penicillin, do not kill fungi as they do bacteria. On the other hand, the big guns of research are beginning to produce remedies that may revolutionize the treatment of fungal diseases.

Last month we mentioned a tablet that helps ringworm of the skin and nails. Another advance appeared in the form of Fungizone (amphotericin B), the latest and most promising product for the treatment of internal fungal diseases. It should prove a boon for those living and traveling in the semi-arid regions of the southwest where coccidioidomycosis (kok-sid-i-oy-do-miko-sis) is common. With a name like that, no wonder it is called desert disease.

This disorder is acquired by inhaling the causative mold during the dry seasons, especially after dust storms. The fungus grows in soil during the rainy season and lies dormant during the remaining months until inhaled by a prospective customer. Lesions of the chest develop that mimic pulmonary tuberculosis.

Many victims are sent to a tuberculosis sanitarium only to be released a week later when the true diagnosis is uncovered. Altho most cases of desert fever are mild and cause no symptoms, the fungus is capable of spreading. It may produce destructive lesions of the lymph nodes, spleen, liver bones, kidneys, and brain.

The majority of the internal and generalized fungal infections have names that are equally as bad as coccidioidomycosis. The list includes histoplasmosis, actinomycosis, blastomycosis, and cryptomycosis.

NEW YORK (AP)—The bull market tempts many a stockholder to cash in today on his profits of the last year or so and invest his money in some other issue—or maybe in a new house.

But there's one thing that has stopped many of them. That is, there may be quite a bit less money to reinvest than you'd think at first glance, no matter how lucky the investor may have been in choosing his holdings.

The shrinking agent: The capital gains tax.

Most of those who take a nice profit in their stocks find they must turn 25 per cent of it over to Uncle Sam, if the stock has been held for more than six months. Held less than six months, the tax bite is much deeper.

Therefore, many leave the shares in the strong box and hope the price doesn't go down.

This is one of the things making for a thin market in many issues—not enough stocks up for sale to meet the demand. And a thin market sees wide swings in prices.

Americans are among the few to pay these long-term capital gains taxes, according to the New York Stock Exchange. It lists 28 countries in which for all practical purposes such taxes aren't collected.

The exchange cites the United Kingdom as an example. It says in its official publication, The Exchange, "the difficulty of establishing a taxable transaction in the case of an individual is such that, in practice, gains realized on security transactions are ignored for tax purposes unless carried out in the regular course of business by a dealer or broker."

When the matter goes to the tax authorities or courts, the following factors are considered: The purpose of the purchase, the type of asset involved, reason for the sale and the method of sale.

Other countries in which capital gains taxes either aren't imposed or collected include: France, Italy, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Ireland, Norway, Portugal, Israel.

On this side of the Atlantic the same holds true for: Canada, Brazil, Mexico, Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Panama, Peru, Uruguay, the Bahamas and Bermuda.

Others free of the tax are: Australia, Japan, New Zealand, Pakistan and South Africa.

The U.S. Congress shows little disposition to change the capital gains tax, or any other revenue getter, this session.

The exchange cites an example of what one well-heeled American is up against. Supposing he bought $30,000 worth of certain shares two years ago and what with stock splits and climbing prices he now finds them saleable at $75,000. A capital tax gain of the $45,000 profit would be $11,250. And that could be enough to give him pause about selling.

However, if sell he must, he can take consolation in the fact that he did make a very nice gain. And he might listen to that old Wall Street wheeze: "You don't go broke taking a profit."

MR. AND MRS. C. DOUGLAS HETRICK

A background of ferns, with white carnations and snapdragons flanked by candelabra, decorated Salem Methodist church in Wexford, Pa., June 20, when Carole Lee English, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. English of Wexford, was united in marriage with C. Douglas Hetrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Hetrick, 22 Crescent Park, Warren.

Performing the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Carleton McKitts; playing traditional wedding music was Mrs. Charles Utz, Jr., while Mrs. Robert Whitely sang "I Love You Truly," "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Wearing pure silk organza over tissue taffeta and carrying a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid, the bride was escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents. Her cousin, Peggy Miller of Beaver Falls, was maid of honor; Nancy Swinderman, of Wexford, bridesmaid; Lynda Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Kelly of Wexford, flower girl.

The bridal gown was styled with brief sleeves, basque waistline and bouffant floor-length skirt. Alencon lace appliques, beaded with seed pearls and centered with hand-made organza petals, outlined the modified sabbina neckline, were scattered over the flowing skirt and court train, and edged the fingertip veil of pure silk French tulle, which fell from a double queen's crown of seed pearls and iridescents.

Identically fashioned of blue print nylon sheer, gowns of attendants had scoop-necklines, short sleeves, and a large taffeta pouff at the back. Their large white picture hats had matching blue floral trim and their colonial bouquets were of white carnations.

Best man for Mr. Hetrick was Randall Gustafson, Bakers-town; ushering were the bride's brother, Lt. James English, Selma, Ala.; Ronald Myers, Evans City; Edward Kirk, of Volant, and Dennis Brown, Warren.

Mrs. English chose a blue lace dress, white accessories and a purple orchid; Mrs. Hetrick's powder blue sheath had matching accessories and white carnation corsage.

The reception for 350 guests followed immediately in the church social rooms, where a four-tiered wedding cake was flanked by a bouquet of pink roses and a lighted Memory Candle which was a gift from the bride's aunt, Mrs. Eugene Miller of Beaver Falls. Aides were Ruth Vogel, Rebecca Norris, Patricia Clark and Barbara Tremble, former roommates of the bride; Mrs. Nancy English and Mrs. Shirley Hendershot served.

Out of town guests were from Warren, DuBois, Ligonier, Derry, Monroeville, Beaver, Erie and Philadelphia, Pa.; Wildwood, N. J.; New Wilmington, Del.; Selma, Ala.; Waverly, N. Y.; and Cleveland, O.

Returning July 4 from a trip to eastern shore points, the newlyweds are at home at 529 West Patrick street, Frederick, Md. For travel, the bride chose a two-piece sheath outfit of brown and white check, with white accessories.

She is a graduate of Mars, Pa., High School and is an elementary education major at Grove City College, where she has completed her junior year. Mr. Hetrick was graduated from Warren High School in 1953, received his mechanical engineering degree from Grove City College and is presently serving with the Army Chemical Corps at Fort Detrick, Frederick, Md.

Honoring the bride-elect with parties have been Peggy Miller, Mrs. Portia Utz, Mrs. Dorothy Kaebnick, Mrs. Louis Elder, Mrs. Lloyd Blake and Mrs. Warren Gilson. The rehearsal dinner was given by the senior Hetricks at Cranberry Hall in Wexford on June 19.

SALLY GRIGGS PLANS OPEN CHURCH

MR. AND MRS. LAWRENCE M. FOX

In a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. R. Bruce Ryan, at 4:00 p. m. June 27 in St. Francis of Assisi Episcopal church in Youngsville, Marga Rea daughter of Mrs. Ruthie I. Morrison, of 102 West Fifth avenue, Warren, and Richard C. Morrison of Kinzua, became the bride of Lawrence M. Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Fox of 2 New street, Warren. Richard Sidey, Warren organist, played selected wedding music.

Escorted to the altar by her grandfather, Bruce S. Bennett, the bride was beautifully gowned in hand-clipped chantilly lace and tulle. The empire bodice had a sabbina neckline threaded with seed pearls, long lace sleeves tapered over the hands; the basque midriff was elegantly draped in bouquet taffeta forming back pouffs; and the bouffant tulle skirt had an overlay of lace and terminated in a graceful chapel train.

Imported silk illusion fashioned her fingertip veil, which was attached to a crown of rhinestones and pearls, and her cascade bouquet of feathered white carnations, roses, lily of the valley, and ivy was centered with a single Dutchess rose.

Sandra Johnson, maid of honor, was gowned in white nylon sheer with velvety flowers of pastel blue, fashioned with empire bodice, brief thimble sleeves and bouffant ballerina skirt. Completing the outfit was the matching wide-brimmed horsehair hat and wristlet gloves accented by tiny pearl buttons at the cuff. Her bouquet was of bright pink carnations and white daisies.

Similarly gowned in white nylon sheer with pink velvety flowers, bridesmaids were Patty Zaffino and Sue Reynolds, both carrying light pink carnations and white daisies. Junior bridesmaids were sisters of the principals, Mona Morrison, in white with maize flowers, and Karen Fox, white with green flowers. Their bouquets were of yellow carnations and white daisies.

Flower girls, also sisters of the bride and bridegroom, were Wanda Morrison and Christene Fox, wearing floor-length gowns of blue nylon sheer with white velvety flowers, matching blue net headbands and gloves. Each carried a basket of pink carnations, accented with blue trim and ribbon.

Dale Fox, brother of the bridegroom, carried the rings on a white satin pillow trimmed in blue lace and ribbon. Completing the bridal party, Roger S. Nuffer was his nephew's best man; Rocky Morrison, brother of the bride, was head usher, with Jackie Schott, Jr., and Jack Acklin.

Mrs. Morrison chose a light pink linen sheath with darkest embroidery trim, pink accessories, and a single cymbidium orchid with pink trim and ribbon. Mrs. Fox wore blue lace, white accessories and a blue-trimmed cymbidium orchid.

Remembered with white carnation corsages, the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Bruce S. Bennett, wore blue; the bridegroom's grandmothers, Mrs. Harry Nuffer and Mrs. Samuel Fox, wore gray and a nylon print, respectively; while the great-grandmother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Myrtle Sweeting, also chose blue.

The reception for 200 guests was held at Glade township fire hall immediately following the ceremony. Out of town guests were from Canada, New Jersey, Buffalo, Tonawanda, Russell, Meadville, and Ridgway. Johnny Craig's Band of Woodstock, Ontario, Canada, played for dancing.

Appointments featured white bells and streamers, a beautiful buffet table holding the wedding supper prepared by Grace Mong; the punch bowl and three tiered wedding cake. The bridal table was decorated with white candles and a center bouquet of alternating white carnations and blue flowers. Judith Ponsoll had the guest book; Shirley Fowler and Anne Putnam were at the punch bowl; Carol Hummel poured; and Mary Hughes cut the wedding cake.

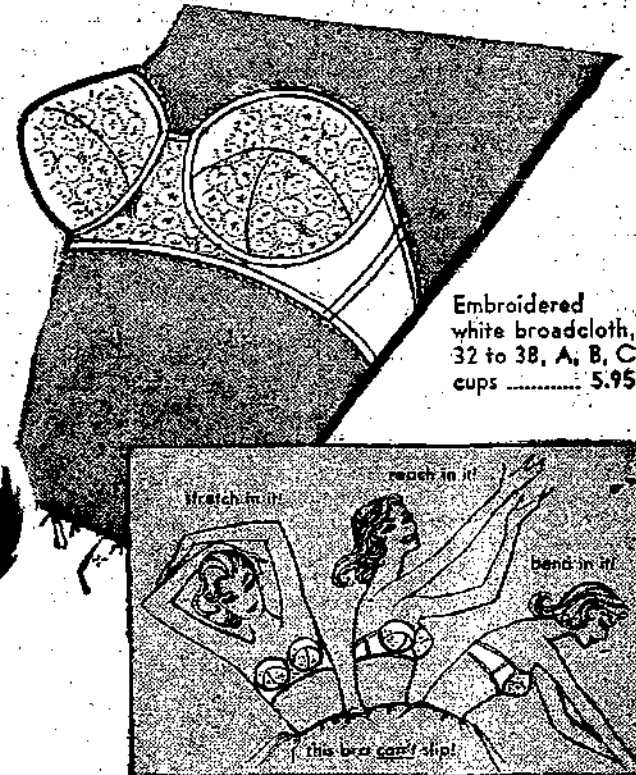

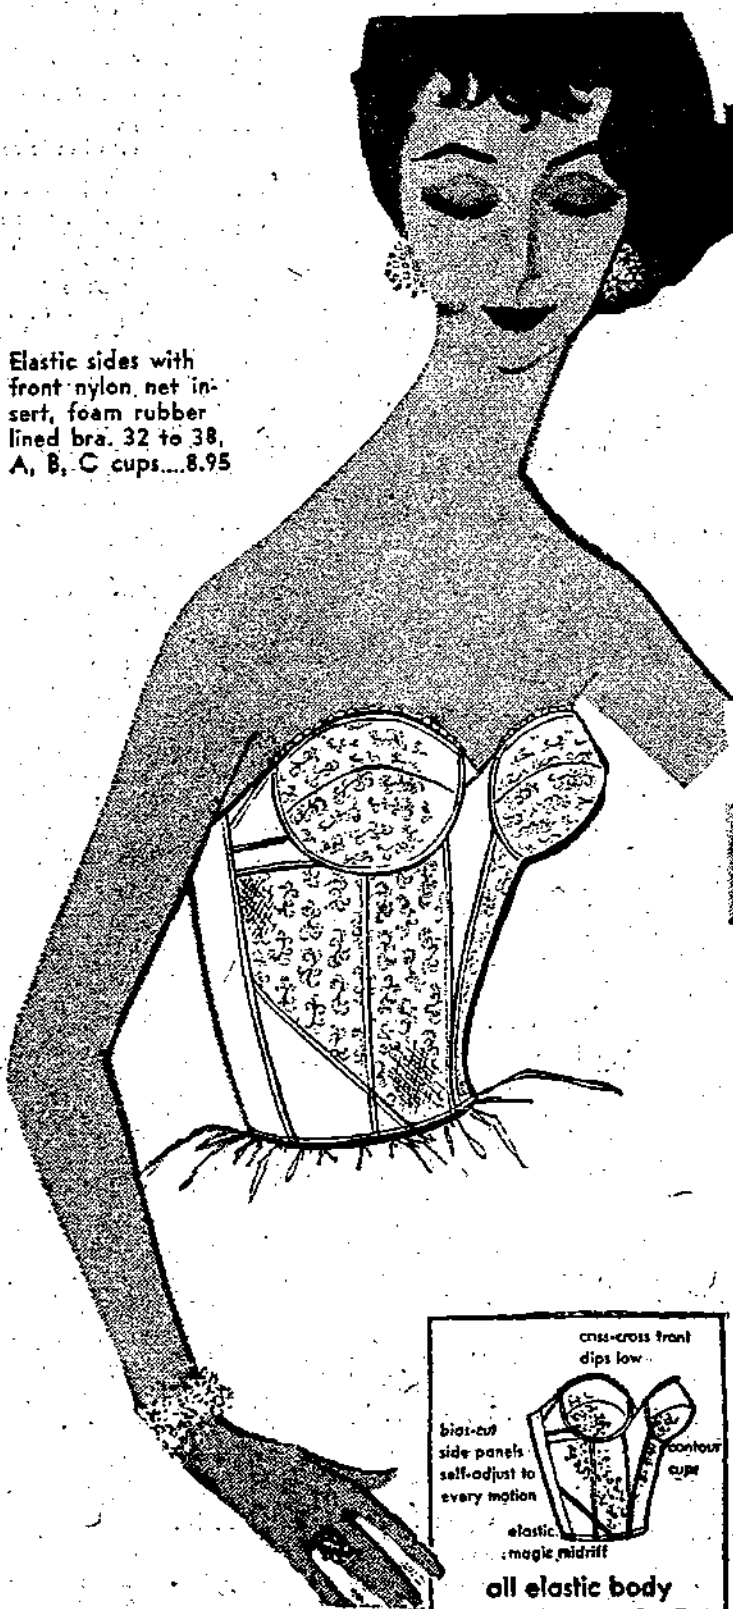

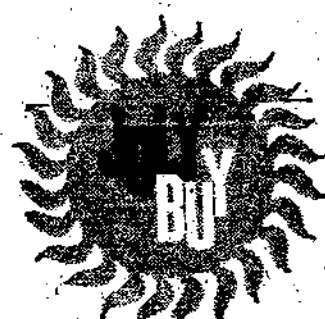

Following a honeymoon in Niagara Falls, Canada, and parts of New York state, the couple will live in San Benito, Texas, where the bridegroom is stationed with the U. S. Navy. Prior to her marriage, the bride was employed by Carson Finance Company.

Hostesses who honored her were Sandra Johnson, Patty Zaffino, Sue Reynolds, Mrs. Walter Brown, Mrs. Grace Mong, Mrs. Harry Mong and Mrs. Eugene Fox.

New Florida Church Pastor Known Locally

From Titusville, Fla., comes word of a newly-organized Emmanuel Baptist congregation and the man who has been called to serve as its pastor. He is the Rev. Bernard E. Ward, who is a native of Akron, O., and son of a former Youngs-ville resident, Mrs. Ethel Ward, now living at 398 Pauline avenue, in that city. Mrs. Ward has two other sons in church work, Darrel and Virgil.

The Florida group has acquired a parsonage, where services will be held until a church property has been secured. Earlier services have been held in private homes.

Rev. Ward attended Akron Bible Institute, in Akron, and Grace Theological Seminary at Winona Lake, Ind. He was associated with the Furnace street Mission in Akron, also with the Chapel at Brown and Vine streets, Calvary Bible Church, and Emmanuel Baptist church.

Serving in Tippecanoe, Ind., he united a Congregational Christian church and a Methodist parish into the Tippecanoe Community church. In 1953, he moved to Mt. Vernon, O., at the invitation of five families of that community, and established the Emmanuel Baptist church. Services were held in a farmhouse for six months until a building could be purchased for the church. Two years later, a Sunday school building was added to the original structure.

Last October, the families interested in the formation of a Titusville church invited Rev. Ward to come there and consider a ministry. After spending New Year's week in Florida, with his family, he concluded his pastorate in Mt. Vernon in March and moved to Titusville in June, following the graduation of his daughter, Brenda, from high school.

Rev. Ward is a member of the Independent Fundamental Churches of America, and has served on the Ohio Regional executive committee for the past two years, holding the dual post of treasurer and publicity director.

Amateur River Runners Are Safe After Thrilling Time

By GERALD E. TRAPP
HANKSVILLE, Utah (AP)—The party was getting rough—wet, too—so Mr. and Mrs. Phillip J. Seeley decided to bow out and catch another ride home.

It set off a frenzied rescue effort in the depths of Cataract Canyon for the Seeleys. And it caused the organization of a big search by military and civilian planes for 14 companions who went on and fought the Colorado River's toughest rapids to a standstill.

Reunited in Hanksville Monday night, the amateur river runners laughed off the experts' fears they had been lost forever in the rapids.

Trouble? None worth mentioning. Fun? Thrilling, just thrilling. Do it again? You bet. Even the Seeleys.

Then why did the Bakersfield, Calif., couple go ashore and wait to be lifted out of the canyon by a helicopter?

"Well," said Seeley, "I saw my wife's head come up twice and I figured I might not see it come up a third time. I'd had it."

The party started June 28 in Green River, Utah. Led by Holmes O. Miller of Bakersfield, the 16 men, women and children embarked in three rubber rafts.

They set out to drift down the Green and Colorado rivers to the outpost of Hite. Flying in a straight line, they would have traveled about 80 miles. Following the river, the distance probably is twice that.

Experts like Jim Hurst, operator of the Green River Airport, tried to talk them out of the trip. Too rough, they said—especially with women, two teen-age girls and an 11-year-old boy along.

When they insisted they could make it, Hurst said well, then, if they didn't show up in Hite by Saturday night, July 4, he'd start looking.

The trip down the Green was a lark.

Then the Green joined the Colorado. Boiling with foam and whirlpools, the Colorado shot the rafts into the boulder-strewn rapids of Cataract Canyon.

The raft carrying the Seeleys went over once, twice. The Seeleys went ashore on Saturday morning and built an SOS out of rocks.

Two In Stockade For Peddling Soft Army Jobs

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP)—There may be a soldier in a nice soft job in Paris today who owes it all to Coogan and Huller. If so, he probably isn't talking.

Coogan and Huller are Sgt. William E. Coogan, 38, Watertown, Mass., and Specialist 5 C. George B. Huller, 23, Passaic, N.J.

They are in the stockade here because the Army says they peddled choice overseas assignments for prices up to $200.

This went on for 2½ months. The Army broke it up six months ago, but didn't tell about it until Monday. Officers said they weren't sure how much the pair raked in—maybe $2,000, maybe more.

Coogan and Huller pleaded guilty to a half dozen violations. They are awaiting review of their court-martial convictions.

Coogan, an Army career man with 13½ years service, was sentenced to 15 years hard labor, and dishonorably discharged.

Huller, who joined the Army in 1953, received 3 years at hard labor and a bad conduct discharge. Both men lost all pay and allowances and were broken to the rank of recruit.

About six per cent of the working population of the United States is engaged in some form of selling.

man who refused to answer the same committee's questions. In this case, the court said, the questions asked were shown to be pertinent.

This is the case where Black said the court was in retreat. But, whereas in the first case the witness asked to be shown how the questions were pertinent, the second didn't, and the committee explained its purposes beforehand.

In still another case which brought criticism the court: In 1957 threw out the conviction of a man for falsely swearing he was not a Communist.

The court said the trial judge refused to let him see statements made to the FBI by witnesses testifying against him. The court said a witness has a right to see such statements to try, if he can, to discredit the witness.

This brought cries that the court was stripping government files of all secrecy in the future. The court actually did no such thing but, to avoid future confusion, Congress passed a law which said a defendant in a federal trial has a right—this upheld the court—to see written or recorded statements made to the government by witnesses against him, but only statements bearing on their testimony. This year the Supreme Court, faced with a test case of this law, upheld it. It turned into law what the court had ruled, with a clarification. This was hardly a retreat from the 1957 opinion.

Titusville Herald: A two-tone Mercury sedan was involved in a one-car crash on Route 27 just north of the Warren-Crawford County line Sunday evening. The car was badly damaged on one side. The identity of the owner or operator of the auto was not learned. The mishap occurred in Warren County, but State Police of the Warren substation had no record of it. Several Enterprise residents saw the damaged car. One man said the auto tipped over after leaving the road. One occupant suffered a cut on the head but was otherwise unhurt, a nearby resident said.

First recorded use of firearms in battle was at Metz, France, in 1324, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

Higgins Heading Back to Dallas For a Vacation

BOSTON (AP)—Mike Higgins heads back to Dallas Wednesday for an extended vacation with his baseball future undecided.

Higgins, a one-time Boston star who labored for several years as a farm hand manager, was fired last Friday as manager of the last place Red Sox. Billy Jurges took his place.

His parting conference with Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey Monday ended on an amiable note. But it really didn't decide anything.

"Mr. Yawkey and I have a mutual understanding," Higgins said. "He has agreed to offer me a job in a few weeks. I have agreed to accept it provided no one has offered me a better one."

Giles Advises Caution On Third League Issue

PITTSBURGH (AP)—President Warren Giles of the National League has suggested a go-slow, two-step plan for establishing a third major league in the event a third circuit is approved.

"I don't believe the public will recognize any new league as a major league unless there are major league teams in it," Giles said.

"One possible approach to the situation," he said, "would be to expand the two present leagues to 10-team leagues. Then, when the new members definitely have attained major status, two teams could be dropped from each league as a nucleus for a third major league."

Fines and Suspensions Stand Giles Declares

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fines and suspensions given Manager Solly Hemus of the St. Louis Cardinals and Card Coach Harry Walker will stand.

President Warren Giles of the National League made the ruling after hearing arguments for both sides. Giles decided to back the umpires and uphold the fines and suspensions.

Hemus was fined $250 and suspended five days while Walker was fined $100 and suspended two days for an argument with umpires in a game with Los Angeles last Thursday. The suspensions went into effect last Friday.

Capacity Crowd Anticipated For All-Star Game

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP)—The superb physical condition of Mickey Mantle and Al Kaline, two of the American League's more distinguished distance hitters, appeared to give the National League a decided edge in today's 26th annual All-Star game before a capacity Forbes Field crowd of 35,000 including Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Although scheduled to open in center the brilliant young Tiger star, recovering from a facial operation, had the stitches removed only Monday in Detroit before flying into Pittsburgh. He hasn't played for a week.

Mantle, Kaline's alternate in center field, sat out Sunday's game between New York and Washington because of a twisted ankle. He winces every time he puts pressure on the right foot.

Manager Casey Stengel insisted his switch-hitting Yankee star was ready to play but it would not be surprising if Mickey were used only in a pinch hitting role.

"That guy never lets you know when he's hurting and he always is ready to play," said Stengel. "I kept him out last Sunday for his own good and also because if he couldn't play in the All-Star game, I didn't want people to say if he was ready to play Sunday then why not now?"

There were no known casualties on the power-laden National League squad that had such home run swatters as Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron, Willie Mays, Ernie Banks and Orlando Cepeda battling second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth. This quintet owns a total of 101 home runs.

There is nothing puny about the American League batting order which begins with Minnie Minoso, a 13-homer man and has Harmon Killebrew, the league's fastest-footed shortstop, Luis Aparicio, was the eighth hitter in the lineup. Johnny Temple, Cincinnati's fine second baseman, was the NL's leadoff hitter.

Wally Moon, Del Crandall and Don Drysdale, selected by Manager Fred Haney as his starting pitcher, represented the lower third of the order.

Mexican Battler Given Chance To Lift Championship

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Youthful Jose Becerra of Mexico today was given a puncher's chance to lift the world bantamweight crown from the close-cropped head of Alphonse Halimi of France Wednesday night.

The betting remained about 2-1 for the 27-year-old Frenchman, who risks the title for the second time in a nationally televised 15-rounder in Memorial Sports Arena. It goes on at 10 p.m. EDT via the ABC network.

Becerra, only 23, has scored 11 straight knockouts and a total of 20 in his 35 professional fights.

His last one, against his strongest foe, ex-champion Mario D'Agata of Italy, earned him the crack at Halimi.

"Becerra is a better puncher than Halimi," declared Jose's manager, Pancho Rosales. "He can hit well with either hand, particularly his left."

Becerra confirmed that Raul (Raton) Macias, his fellow countryman who lost in 15 rounds to Halimi here Nov. 6, 1957, was not too impressed with the Frenchman's punching ability.

Jet Boat Opens Remote Fishing

By WM. TAYLOR MCKEOWN
Editor, Popular Boating
A jet-powered family runabout, 16 feet long, fast, safe, easy to handle and with remarkable performance characteristics—this was the report.

We promptly sent a test skipper to Indianapolis to get the details.

A family jet that can be safely handled in local harbors is something else again. We were frankly skeptical.

But the report appears to be true, according to initial tests of the prototype boat. Originally designed in New Zealand for running rapids, this interesting craft was noted there by a U. S. scientist returning from the Antarctic. He brought back his enthusiasm to the States.

While the first models will be fiberglass runabouts, plans call for a line ranging eventually from 12-foot utilities to 40-foot.

Coming toward you, the Turbocraft looks like a conventional runabout. It is powered with a standard automotive engine, but this spins a water-pump turbine. Water is sucked through a keel intake and jetted from an outlet in the transom. The bottom of the boat is smooth—no propeller, rudder, struts or nozzle that could catch on underwater snags.

This is the boat's special advantage. Water three inches deep is all that is necessary when the hull is running up on plane. The test skipper drove it over brush and stumps, jumped logs that were eight inches out of the water.

Here is a craft that could open up remote fishing areas where normally you would damage a propeller or go aground. It makes possible running rapids and white water no other craft would dare approach.

Maneuverability is excellent. Traveling at 30 miles an hour the boat can turn within its own length, providing the driving fun of a sports car. Slowed down, it responds smoothly to the controls and has none of the steering troubles that have plagued hydro jet craft in the past. Pointing the water stream steers the craft; squirting it forward under the hull provides a simple reverse without any shifting of gears.

The Turbocraft 16 sells for $33,000, a price competitive with conventional inboard craft.

It appears to offer a new horizon for pleasure boating.

Young Mother Is Challenger In Women's Western

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — A mother of two children today threw a challenge to the young in years in the Women's Western Amateur golf tournament.

Mrs. Ruth White Miller, 39, of Long Beach, Calif., stole the qualifying medal Monday from the teenagers with a par-matching 75.

It equaled the competitive course record on the 6,567-yard, par 37-38-75 Exmoor Country Club course.

Mrs. Miller left her daughters, Vicki, 7, and Dedra, 5, with her parents in Cleveland.

A former assistant dean of students at Antioch College in Ohio, she once studied singing, played tennis, and took up golf seriously five years ago. She won the Southern California crown this year.

Second to Mrs. Miller in qualifying for 32 championship bracket spots were defending champion Barbara McIntire, 24, Jupiter, Fla., and Sherry Wheeler, 18, Glasgow, Ky. Each had 76.

At 77 were Andrea Cohn, 19, Waterloo, Iowa, and Judy Bell, 22, psychology major at Wichita University.

Six played off in sudden death for one place in the 85 bracket. Judy Eiler of Old Hickory, Tenn., the 1959 National Intercollegiate and Southern Amateur champion, won the berth.

Major League Meetings This Week in Chicago

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A proposal to permit trading between National and American League teams without waivers between Nov. 21 and Dec. 15 of each year will be up for reconsideration at the major league meetings in Chicago on Thursday and Friday.

The proposal was approved last year but is coming up for a vote again this year at the suggestion of Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, who is against the plan.

Charles Segar, secretary of baseball, said a second item to come up at the major league confab this week will be how a million dollar fund approved for aiding the minor leagues is to be distributed.

He said there are no plans to discuss the possible formation of a third major league.

Jordan and Moyer In Final Workout For Title Battle

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Wel-terweight champion Don Jordan of Los Angeles and challenger Penny Moyer of Portland today hold what probably is their final strenuous workout before their Friday title fight here.

Jordan, who is 25, and the 19-year-old Moyer both are reported to be in top physical condition and are expected to weigh 147 for the scheduled 15-round bout.

The fight will be carried by NBC-TV starting at 10 p.m. (EDT) with a 200-mile area around Portland blacked out. It will be staged at a Portland racetrack, and promoter Tommy Moyer said the fight will go on regardless of the weather because of the television commitment.

Jordan, who has held the title for about six months, has a string of eight victories and a 45-11 record.

Moyer has won 20 straight, including decisions this year over Gaspar Ortega and Vince Martinez.

Boating Boom Causes Increase in Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The increase of dangers accompanying the boom in boating was demonstrated tragically by the deaths of at least 60 persons in boating accidents during the nation's two-day Independence Day celebration.

Collisions were rare in the fatal accidents, but the crash of a cabin cruiser and an auto ferry was the holiday's most serious accident, killing six occupants of the cruiser. The collision occurred Saturday on Lake Michigan off Muskegon, Mich.

Four of eight persons in a home-made motor boat died when the boat capsized in Elnor Lake near Corinth, N.Y.

There were several other boating accidents which killed more than one person.

Girl Scouts

Due to a detour. We were four hours late arriving in Chicago. The train steamed into the station at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday.

We were transported in buses to the Union Station, where we ate lunch. Girl Scouts from many sections of the nation were swarming all over the station. It was quite exciting. After lunch we toured Chicago. We visited Field Museum of Natural History. We saw Buckingham Fountain. We viewed beautiful Chicago skyline from the harbor. We saw the Wrigley, Chicago Sun and Prudential buildings. Marshall Field's and the Merchandise Mart. At the Union Station we boarded the C. B. and O. Railway, headed for Colorado Springs. We were on our last trek!

This train was made up entirely of Girl Scouts enroute to the Roundup. All of us had fun meeting girls from all parts of the nation. We were fascinated with their accents. When we returned from the Roundup, we will probably have developed a avote in the morning we were traveling across the flatlands of Nebraska. We spent most of the time in the recreation "castle car" singing and viewing the magnificent scenery. We had a delicious breakfast and lunch on the train. The land is gaining in altitude now. We can see the mountains in the distance as we near Colorado Springs. Now the Rockies are looming all around us! How majestic they look! We will arrive at the station in Colorado Springs in a few moments. We must get our baggage now! Roundup, here we come!!

Ellender, who regularly tries to cut foreign aid totals, was ready with a series of other reducing amendments.

One would cut to 500 million dollars the $55 millions Eisenhower asked for defense supports, the economic aid given some allies to help them maintain military forces larger than their own economies could sustain.

Another would reduce to 100 millions the $244,620,000 in the bill for special grants to impoverished nations outside the military aid pact.

A 57-year-old Oil City executive suffered a fatal heart attack late Sunday afternoon while boating on Lake Erie. Albert Alten, factory manager of the Oil City Glass Plant, was pronounced dead at the Public Dock when the boat reached shore. Alten was boating with his wife, Fleeta, and three Oil City residents when he complained of chest and arm pains. He went into the cabin to lie down. His wife followed him and found no pulse. The party returned immediately to the bay and Alten was pronounced dead at the dock at 5:35 p. m.

Soviets

Moscow radio first reported the launching of the huge two-ton missile Monday four days after it went up. The nose cone and its passengers separated from the propelling rocket and parachuted back to earth, returning the animals safely, the Soviets said.

It was not announced whether the propelling rocket had gone in to orbit around the earth or whether it had burned up on re-turning to the earth's atmosphere.

Soviet officials did not disclose how high the animal-bearing missile went, but the Soviet Union previously claimed one of its one-stage geophysical rockets reached a record altitude of 234 miles. The Soviets said the animal shot reached a great height.

The first space traveler of note was Laika, the little Soviet dog that went into orbit with Sputnik II Nov. 3, 1957, and died in less than two weeks when its oxygen gave out. It traveled as far out as 1,500 miles from the earth in its orbit.

In July 1958 the United States sent a mouse 600 miles up in a several-stage rocket. It landed 6,000 miles away, but the cone was not recovered. A month later the Soviets claimed to have shot two dogs 281 miles into space and brought them back to earth alive.

The first American space travelers to be recovered were the two monkeys Able and Baker which a Jupiter missile last May carried 390 miles above the earth in an arc which extended 1,500 miles out into the Atlantic. Able died after her return during an operation to recover part of an instrument used to record her reactions.

Intersection Gets Lube Job

An oiled intersection for easier turning? Not exactly. But 55 gallons of oil spilled across the Pennsylvania avenue west and Hickory street intersection this morning made traveling a bit slick.

A 55-gallon drum fell from a Sterling Oil Co. truck at 10:30 a. m., and burst open when it struck the pavement, its contents lubricating the street.

Borough firemen washed the area with water then spread a layer of sand over the oil-slick pavement.

C. E. Simpson, 106 Alexander, was driver of the truck.

FOSSILS

Best place to find fossils is in sedimentary rock formed by deposits of sand and silt wherein plant and animal tissues could be burned without being crushed.

Chicago Trip Outstanding Experience for Local Chorus

Contributed by Barbershop-Pers' Publicity Chairman:

The Warren Chapter S.P.E.B.-S.Q.S.A. returned Sunday evening from the International Convention and Quartet-Chorus Contest which was held in Chicago's Civic Opera House last week, and closed on Saturday evening. The local chapter competed in the International Chorus Contest against the best 14 barbershop choruses in the world. Representatives in this contest were from the United States, Canada and Hawaii.

The local chorus does not know at present where they ranked, as only the top five medalist positions are announced at the convention. Upon receipt of the official score sheet, announcement of the exact standing of Warren's entry will be made.

Earl Enerson, the director, was very high in praise of his group. He considered it the best performance ever presented by the local group, and feels sure they have improved on their ninth place position of last year.

First prize went to the chorus from Pekin, Illinois. This chorus has competed in the past eight consecutive contests. Last year they finished second in the contest. The 1958 contest is actually the third contest the Warren chapter has competed in.

Seneca land officials as well as audience response to the local group's numbers was very enthusiastic and the attitude of the local chorus was one of continued enthusiasm to again compete in international competition.

Each year this group continues to learn the new trends and has improved their position in each contest. Next year's contest will be held in Dallas, Texas, in June and the local group is now aiming for this contest.

The local group had an opportunity to see Chicago decorated and prepared for the visit of Queen Elizabeth. Many of the group attended Don McNeil's Breakfast Club. Mrs. Wylis Johnson of Youngsville was interviewed on Monday's program, having been a charter member of the Breakfast Club.

One of the most outstanding exhibits seen by the local group was the crown jewels exhibit displayed by Carson, Pirie and Paine Company. The Chicago Trade Fair was opened on July 2nd and was visited by many of the group. The U.S. Fleet arrived in Chicago on Friday as part of the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

In Chicago, the group stayed at the Morrison Hotel, which is located in the Loop and just five blocks from the Civic Opera House where all contests were held.

Quartet winners were: 1st, The Four Pitch — Hikers of Springfield, Mo.; 2nd, the Evans Quartet of Salt Lake City, Utah; 3rd, the Town & Country Four of Pittsburgh (whom will appear on the local chapter's Annual Night of Harmony next January); 4th, the Easterners of Jersey City, N. J.; and 5th, the Short Cuts of Miami, Fla.

The local chorus has been invited to appear at the New York State Fair to be held in Syracuse on September 5th and are now negotiating on contract terms for this appearance.

Next public appearance for the group will be at the Chattanooga 'Seneca Land Serenade' which will be held at the institution on Saturday evening, August 29th. Appearing on this program will be 'The Schmitt Brothers' of Two Rivers, Wisc. and the 'Pittsburghers' of Pittsburgh. Both of these quartets are past international champions and assure the audience of an outstanding performance.

Much credit should be given to the local group for their continuing to help make the name of Warren Pennsylvania, so well known on an international scale.

Sheriff Linder and Skull Make Call In Washington

Sheriff Larry E. Linder left by plane from Bradford airport today with a skull as company.

The human skull, found June 17 on an island above Hemlock in Allegheny, is being taken by the Warren County sheriff to the FBI laboratory in Washington, D.C.

FBI will send the skull, believed to be that of a mature woman, to Smithsonian Institution in Washington for analysis.

From examination at the Institution, it is hoped that a near-accurate age sex and possibly length of death status will be determined.

The skull was found lying on the island's beach by Becky Templeton, 16, of 101 Prospect street. The young girl put the find in her boat and took it home, after which Sheriff Linder and Coroner Ed Lowrey were summoned.

Negative results have been obtained from officials' attempts to locate missing persons in New York state, thinking that possibly the skull may be part of the body missing.

Police Cite Driver After Striking Car

State Police are expected to charge Frank A. Beeles, Jr., 29, of 25 North Main street, North Warren, with driving too fast for conditions after an accident on Rte. 69 Monday night at 10:50 p. m.

Beeles, traveling south on 69, about one mile above Routes 62-69 intersection, misjudged his distance of a slow moving car ahead which had pulled on to the highway.

Attempting to pass the car, driven by Freeman G. Parker, 88, of 9 Lawn avenue, the Beeles machine struck the left rear of the Parker car. About $200 damages resulted.

Prisoners

to the floor and officer John Martin fired a gas blast from a gun almost into the faces of the convicts.

Officers behind them then broke into the room, subdued the convicts and rescued the hostages.

Mary Turner, 24, wife of one of 11 inmates held hostage, said she was asleep holding her baby when the officers rushed the door.

Mrs. Turner said everyone was calm throughout the 15-hour ordeal. She said the four rebellious inmates never touched any of the hostages, and even gave them cigarettes.

The four convicts who seized an estimated 26 to 28 visitors, three guards and 11 other convicts Monday are Richard A. Murray, 20; Donald DeCourcy, 22; Robert E. Jasmun, 22 and David K. Owens, 19.

They listed no grievances, asking only for an escape car and clear access to the Canadian border.

One of the officer hostages, Hugh Dewalt, said the convicts threatened they would throw them out of the window dead if their demands for freedom were not met by 6 a. m.

One of the most touching scenes of the rescue came when Mrs. Mariene Oxford, of Kelo, Wash., was reunited with her son, Bobby, 4.

Mrs. Oxford was visiting her husband, one of the inmate hostages. She was released Monday night when she became severely ill. She refused to leave the grounds, however, waiting for the release of her son.

Mrs. Oxford said, "They were pretty decent, those fellows who held us. They got the kids milk."

She said the women and children were not threatened although the guards held as hostages were. Reformatory Supt. Ernest Timpani said, "The rescue attempt worked just like clockwork."

He said that 10 members of his own staff led the charge and were followed immediately by state patrolmen. He said three of the inmates were knocked unconscious by the flash of the tear gas shell.

He said however, he did not believe any of them were seriously injured. His first worry was for the women and children.

Several of the inmate hostages were taken to the reformatory hospital for treatment. The four convicts who attempted the escape were taken to another section of the prison under heavy guard. No one was permitted to see them or talk with them.

The rescue was a well-planned and smoothly executed operation. The entire rescue was staged and executed in a matter of two or three minutes or less.

Before going to the visiting room St. William McKelvie and officer John Martin had arranged on a trigger word "Olympia" during their talks with the convicts.

McKelvie thought the time was ripe he would use the word "Olympia" and Martin would step forward and fire the shot. That was the way it worked out.

The convicts demand for an escape car by 6 a. m. was their third such deadline. The first two Monday night were ignored by the officers, and the rebels made no attempt to carry out their threats.

Late Monday, the four convicts stalked into the visitors' room. One of them shouted, "Everybody quiet, and nobody will be hurt."

One of the hostages said the convicts brandished knives and for the first few minutes stationed themselves at strategic points within the room. As the long hours dragged on, the four convicts relaxed their guard more and more.

A woman hostage said, "As time went by the four convicts gathered into one group and talked on."

She said they appeared to be more nervous and more unsure of themselves as the hours wore on.

Reformatory

right behind me. We were all over the convicts within moments. I knew these boys pretty well. I had worked with them ever since they'd been sent here.

I got up periodically during the night — unarmed — to keep them accustomed to seeing me. I think they could have worked themselves into a corner and had to carry out their threat of death to the guards and hostages.

Jasmun told me he was "going all the way" because his life was already fouled up.

Murray said he didn't like the way the world was run anyway. It was a tough decision to make, but it was the only way.

And am I glad now. Two of the ladies kissed me after they got out. I got a hug from one of the little boys.

This job may not pay much — but that's reward enough for anyone.

PRICES GOING UP

NEW YORK (AP) — Consumers will pay more this fall for everything from women's fur-trimmed coats to rugs, a check with big resident buying offices indicated today. Factors boosting retail prices include rising wages in the textile industry, increased leather costs and a possible boost in steel prices.

Best known human effigy on top a U. S. building is the 37-foot statue of William Penn atop Philadelphia's City Hall.

Corky officially enters West Point late today when he and the 700 other new fourth classmen march to Trophy Point and take the Oath of Allegiance to the United States.

He and the others will spend the summer in basic tactical training and in the fall begin their four-year course in academic and military instruction.

Corky and his mother and stepfather, J. Watson Pedlow, slipped quietly out of their home near Philadelphia Monday to come here. They said, "Corky wants to be like any other cadet — use hold down the public."

Kozlov

Kozlov has given about equal attention to the themes of peace — picturing the Soviet Union as its ardent champion — and trade, offering the lure of vast profits.

Kozlov, whose position in the Soviet government is close to Khrushchev himself, undoubtedly will push the theme of expanded American-Soviet business contacts during his look at industries in Detroit, Chicago and Pittsburgh.

Killing of Grove City Man Recalled By Court Martial

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — A witness at the court martial of Pvt. Donald G. Bruner testified today that the Richmond, Calif., soldier and the man he is charged with murdering were dating the same girl.

Bruner, 19, is charged with the fatal shooting of Pvt. Joseph C. Darling, also 19, of Grove City, Pa., when both were guarding an ammunition depo. in adjacent guard towers at a Karlsruhe barracks last March 21.

Capt. Kohn W. Bloomfield, provost marshal of Karlsruhe, testified that Bruner said before being taken into custody that on the previous Thursday "Darling made a date to take my girl to a service club dance."

Bruner declined to identify the girl.

The trial began June 8 and was recessed on June 10 until today to allow Bruner's attorney to gather more evidence.

Bruner had pleaded temporary insanity but the plea was rejected.

Fire Fighters Finally Contain Forest Blaze

PORTOLA, Calif. (AP) — The forest fire came a bit too close for comfort. But after a state of emergency was declared, fire fighters contained the Plumas National Forest blaze.

Twenty miles northwest, other fire fighters hoped to get a line around the five-day Tahoe forest fire which already has blackened 10,000 acres. Winds were the big factor in both blazes.

RADIO and TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — Dinah Shore, now on a leisurely two months European holiday with family, will wind up her vacation buying clothes from top couturiers in Paris, Rome and maybe Madrid.

The gowns—originals from the great dressmakers like Balenciaga, Givenchy, Balmain, Crahay, Chanel and the Fontana sisters—will be featured attractions on Dinah's Sunday night color shows. During the shopping tour, she will be accompanied by a fashion consultant from Hollywood for the delightful chore.

Actually, Dinah Shore's clothes have been consistently among the big attractions of the musical show. She is one of the few women TV stars who has reflected current fashion trends. Most of her clothes have been designed for her by Bob Carlton, on NBC's staff. His is a big job, because last season alone, Dinah had more than 100 changes in the course of 27 shows.

Fashion may be spinach to a lot of male TV viewers, but Dinah's clothes and her smart way of wearing them has attracted an especially large feminine viewing audience.

Odds and ends: Maurice Chevalier will do a CBS radio special, "Holiday With Chevalier" Sunday, Sept. 27, aided by a pack of Parisian stars. Jack Paar seems to be winning his struggle with his NBC employers to cut down the volume and problems of his TV work. For some time now the show has been taped early in the evening for airing at 11:15 p.m. Now a selection of the week's best bits will be patched together to form a Friday tape show. This is also a boon to Paardites who don't mind sitting up until all hours Friday night, but find it grueling on other nights when followed by early-of-the-hours.

Boro Says: Weed Must Go

George A. Geracimos, borough manager, today reminded property owners that weeds on vacant lots through Warren Borough must disappear.

In his statement to the press, Geracimos said "Because of wet weather conditions, growth of weeds on vacant lots throughout the borough has reached the point where immediate action must be taken."

"Attention is called to this condition and request is made that all owners of vacant lots within the Borough limits proceed immediately to get the weeds cut down."

If the weed situation is not corrected, the boro will issue official notice to the property owner. There is an ordinance covering the weed condition.

Social Security Reminder From District Manager

There's no time like the present to investigate your future benefits under Social Security. Howard H. Gift, district manager of the Jamestown district office, stated today.

All persons expecting to retire within the next two or three months, should telephone or visit the Social Security office now and check on such questions as:

1. How much will I receive each month?
2. What proofs are required? (i. e. proof of age)
3. How much may I earn and still draw my social security checks?
4. How much will my wife receive?
5. How long does it take to receive my first check?

By knowing the answers to the above questions, you will know just how social security benefits will fit into your retirement plans.

Your Social Security district office will be glad to answer any additional questions you might have regarding your Social Security benefits.

Your Social Security office is located at Hotel Jamestown Bldg., Jamestown, N. Y. The telephone number is 41-171.

Letters to Editor

TAKE HEED WHAT YE HEAR

July 8, 1959

Dear Mr. Editor:

What a privilege we have in America to read what we please or not, and to hear or not to hear whatever is broadcast over the radio, T.V. or otherwise, but as intelligent folks it is wise for us to guard against that which is false.

No doubt, many of your readers heard a series of messages given by a Jamestown minister seeking to convince his hearers that they should be guided by their conscience and not by any outside authority.

When I open my Bible, the very first words I read are "In the beginning God." Therefore, all that we are and know and have, has its source in God, and His Holy Word, the Bible, is our final word of authority, and it teaches that the basis of moral law is not the conscience of the people, but the will of God as revealed in the Word of God; and can we then, His creature, speak against God, our Creator? "In Him we live and move and have our being."

When three of His disciples were with Jesus on the Mt. of Transfiguration, Peter made suggestion to Jesus about building three tabernacles, and a voice came from Heaven, "This is My beloved Son in whom I am well pleased, HEAR YE HIM."

The above mentioned minister suggested also that Science is a greater authority than Genesis, the first book of the Bible, which is God's Word. True science and the Bible never disagree.

God's Word has stood the test of the ages.

Therefore, may we listen to what He hath said, and obey Him. Jesus said in Mark 4:24, "Take heed what ye hear."

Traditional Circus Wonders Will Be in Warren July 16th

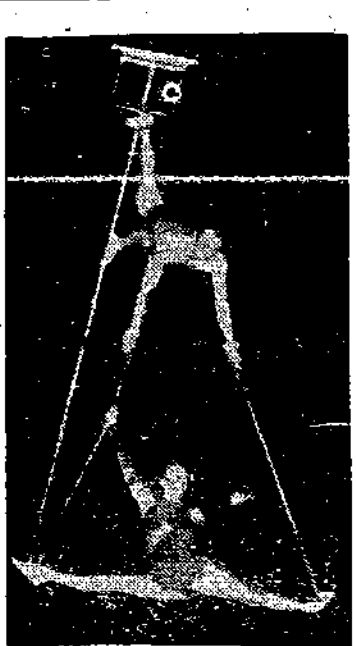

These inspirational lecturers and governmental leaders who stress the importance of team work in the attainment of a desired goal, might well point to the circus as one of civilization's outstanding examples of organized effort and what it can accomplish.

Local residents will be able to see this principal in action when Hagen Bros. Three Ring Circus comes to Warren on Thursday July 16th under the sponsorship of Jaycees. They will have a chance to see the intricate system by which a big circus is able to move into a town, set up its vast array of tents and complicated paraphernalia, give two complete performances and then tear down, pack up and move on to the next town all within the space of twenty-four hours.

"Here today; gone tomorrow" is the unending cycle which keeps the circus folks constantly on the move. Hagen Bros. Circus is an itinerant tented city which moves its streets, business offices and residential section as frequently and regularly as the rising sun.

From April until November, this is the only city the many employees of the circus know, save for superficial acquaintance with the cities where the show exhibits, gained by brief shopping tours.

Appearing at both performances, 2:30 and 8:00 p. m., of Hagen Bros. Circus will be such featured acts as the Riding Grubbs, a troupe of horse back riders recently appearing with Australia's leading circus and the El Gran Ensemble, acrobatic stars of the European show world.

Included in the cast of over a hundred performers and animals will be such traditional circus wonders as performing elephants, daring aerialists, comical clowns, jungle beasts from all over the world, drill horses and ponies and laugh provoking dog acts. Of course, the twenty act performance will be interspersed by beautiful, talented girls and rousing circus music.

Allegheny Opens New Concept In Airline Service

A new concept in airline passenger service was given wings by Allegheny Airlines, July 1, when the airline inaugurated jet-prop "Lellani" service in colorful ceremonies at Washington National and Greater Pittsburgh Airports.

The Hawaiian-flavor "Lellani" flights, operating between Pittsburgh, Washington and the shore resorts of Atlantic City and Capt. May/Wildwood, were christened by Allegheny County Commissioner, Howard Stewart, at Pittsburgh, and by Hawaii State Society President, Harry E. Taylor, Jr., at Washington.

Other party-honor guests at the Pittsburgh ceremony included Pennsylvania Adjutant General A. J. Drexel Biddle, Jr.; Leroy Williams, Chairman of the Aeronautics Committee of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce; and Emory Sedlak, of the Pennsylvania Economy League.

As the honor guests severed a symbolic "lei", Allegheny's regular hostesses and six Hawaiian sister-hostesses who are serving by their side on Lellani flights, tossed handfuls of red blossoms over the doorway to Allegheny's fuchsia and green jet-prop airplane.

Commenting on the marked departure from traditional champagne-bottle christenings, an Allegheny spokesman said: "In view of Hawaii's overwhelming vote for Statehood last weekend, we felt our dedication should salute the 50th State rather than the new aircraft being introduced into commercial air service on these flights. And what could be more symbolic of Hawaii than its famous flowers?"

Inflight service on Allegheny's Lellani flights will feature orchids and informal style shows for the ladies. Hawaiian music will fill the cabin via special stereophonic equipment. "Hookup" snack and beverage trays will be served by the Hawaiian guest hostesses. "Hookup", Allegheny said, means "a gift or offering of royalty."

While Lellani passengers enjoy Island-style cabin service, Allegheny's new jet-prop Convair 540, powered by 3500 horsepower Napier engines, will whisk them to and from short

WIN BUT LOSE!

Kane Republican: The revitalized Kane Kadets, parading before more than 35,000 persons in the big July 4th celebration at Warren, topped a seventh place in competition with international, national and state title holders—but came out the loser financially and in a big way. During the parade, thieves rifled the clothing of the Kadet members, taking approximately $150 in cash. The unit was assigned to a room in Warren High School and was led to believe the room would be locked when the Kadets left. Watches and other jewelry were not taken by the thieves who apparently took their time in going through wallets to remove cash only. The parade prize amounted to $15—but the place won by the Kadets was termed highly creditable for the young group and an indication that the local drum and bugle corps again is on its way to the top.
